Meaning of the judgement card

All the 2's in a Tarot deck can be indicative of the need to make a choice of some kind... or shifting to get back into balance/alignment. The Judgement card is the 'Super 2' in the deck. Any choice you need to make when this card shows up will be life-changing and it is often a choice that has the potential of bringing you back into alignment with your Life Purpose. The Angel depicted in this Major Arcana is Archangel Gabriel and the path on the Kabbalistic Tree of Life covered by this card is the path between Malkuth and Hod. XX Judgement vibrates to the numbers 2+0=2 and is therefore related to both II The High Priestess and XI Justice. This triumvirate of cards applies to anyone on a 2 Life Path (i.e. your day+month+year of birth adds up a number that reduces to the single digit 2). Astrologically, Judgement corresponds to the Element of Fire according to the Golden Dawn system of correspondences. Later, after the discovery of Pluto in 1930, it was assigned Pluto as the planetary correspondence. When using the Healing Key spread any additional cards should be drawn from the suit of Wands (Fire). There is a self-destructive element to the shadow side of this card. If it keeps occurring in readings for yourself, you may be called to look at a self-destructive pattern that continuously takes you out of alignment with your Higher Self. If dignified or reversed, it can also indicate secrets that have the power to alter the course of your destiny being kept from you. Correspondences Element: Fire Planet: Pluto Archangel: Azrael (ruler of Pluto), Jeremiel (angel of Rebirth and Awakening), Gabriel (depicted) and Michael (ruler of the Fire Element) Chakra: Crown chakra Colour: Black, white, dark red, scarlet, orange Crystal: Kyanite, moldavite, meteorite, labradorite, snowflake obsidian Metal: Tungsten, teutonium Body: The process of dying, purging, elimination Exercise: Any exercise aimed at total body transformation rather than wellbeing, such as bodybuilding where you destroy muscle tissue so that it can regenerate itself Stance: Lying prostrate Magickal Tool/Ingredient: Any ingredients with hidden properties and/or the ability to kill/resurrect Associated Major Arcana Cards (through numerology): The High Priestess and Justice Associated Minor Arcana Cards: N/A (though you may choose to pull one card from the suit of Wands for clarification when you do the Healing Key Spread). Remedies to increase the energy of Judgement in your life You can make a tarot essence to harness and increase the energy of the Judgement card, using a card from the deck of your choice, along with any of the crystals above that you feel drawn to work with. There is plenty of information on the healing properties for each of the crystals available online Relax with the card under your pillow at the level of your crown chakra. Ask for guidance about your Life Purpose to start flowing into your conscious mind Take up a meditation practise with the intent to transform your consciousness Make a life-changing decision Go on a Vision Quest Act out your own death and resurrection Write about where your soul was before you were born Spend some time getting to know Archangel Azrael (ruler of Pluto, a.k.a the Angel of Death) and the deities of Death/Rebirth: Anubis, Hel, Kali, Hades, Persephone To counteract or balance the influence of Judgement, you need to simply enjoy the moment, play, be lazy or shirk all responsibility. Alternatively, in order to balance a shadow aspect, change a negative psychological pattern into a positive one. Affirmation: "The divine spark within me grows stronger as I hark my calling and make choices that align me with my life purpose." LOVE AND RELATIONSHIPS Massive life-changing events and choices are heralded by the Judgement card - stuff that most definitely impacts the relationship. The Angel depicted in the RWS Judgment card is Archangel Gabriel, the angel of the Annunciation. As an outside force, it could be any major event that makes one of you have to make a difficult choice - one that will change your lives and the relationship forever. If the Judgement card describes an inner process, it either relates to dealing with Karmic issues or a process of aligning with your life purpose. If the Judgement card describes personality traits in a lover, it could mean that he or she has great persuasive powers and that having a sense of purpose is extremely important to him or her. This person often functions as a catalyst for change and awakening in others. It could also mean that they are facing some life-changing choices... choices that will put the past firmly behind them. This could work in your favour as it might give them a better perspective on life in general and on the relationship in particular. One thing is certain - things will not remain the same for the two of you. If you are unable to roll with the punches, it could mean the end of the relationship. Surrounding cards will tell more. Judgement and Death, or Judgement and the 10 of Swords are usually tell-tale signs of a relationship coming to an end. Rest assured that it is for the best - you are simply not compatible any more since one of you has outgrown the relationship. The combination of the Fire element and the corresponding planet for Judgement, Pluto, is a potent mix in terms of passion and sexuality. If this card describes your intimate connection, you can count on sex to be both hot and highly transformational. To a single person, if this card is about an upcoming relationship, it could well mean that it will be a relationship with someone from a past life with whom you have a soul contract. This is especially true together with the 6 of Cups. The meaning of the Judgement Tarot card is 'result.' When it pops up in your Tarot reading, Judgment predicts that you're about to get an outcome in your love life or relationships. If you're uncertain about your future, you will soon get the answers you're desperately seeking. Significant life-changing events are often about to take place when Judgment comes out in a reading. In a way, Judgment is the card of transition from one state to another. Relationships can go from dating to marriage or dating to break-ups. Jobs can go to promotions or annex. Judgment marks the time when all the effort you've put in will result in one thing or another, whether that's for better or worse. Sometimes, Judgment can signal a life-changing opportunity. Decisions around this opportunity will need to be made swiftly because there will be a time limit. The choices you make during this period will affect the rest of your life and should not be taken lightly. However, too much waiting around weighing up the pros and cons can result in loss. At other times, Judgment represents the realization of a calling and the force of destiny. You should not ignore that burning inside you to realize your dreams; you only have one life to live - make it count. While Judgement is not a negative Tarot card, situations that surround it will be painful for you at the time. As you achieve your destiny with Judgement, many people will enter and leave your life. Although this may be very difficult for you, all will work out in your best interests. Judgment is generally neutral for love Tarot readings. It can be a sign that the relationship is meant to be and is part of a bigger plan. Whether that means that you're soulmates or you're supposed to learn lessons from this union depends entirely on the other cards. Personally, I feel that Judgement is a reassuring card if you want an ex-lover to return. Judgment is telling you that if it's meant to be, they will return. Therefore, if you have reason to believe that your ex is 'the one', a reconciliation will happen in the future. However, if they prove not to be the love of your life, someone greater is out there for you; meanwhile, this current person is holding you back. The Judgment card will appear in business and career-orientated Tarot readings if what you're doing professionally is your calling. I believe that, although we have free will, there are some things that are in our greatest interest, so the universe comes together to make it happen (our destiny). This card in a spread shows that the universe, God, and the spirits favor your new direction, so they will do all they can to assist you. Judgment can also predict a time in your career when everything will snap into place for you. Your psychological blocks will be lifted and you will find innovative ways of solving any issues your company has. Strange coincidences and events will happen; you'll get signs from the other side that will help you with business and career matters. Expect divine assistance in making your dreams a reality. When you're asking your Tarot cards if someone has feelings for you, Judgement can be a bit of a pain in the ass. Judgment is one of those cards (like The High Priestess and Justice) that doesn't like to reveal another person's motives; you have to figure them out for yourself. All will be disclosed in its own time. Judgment will appear in the outcome position of a Tarot spread to indicate that soon, all will be revealed. While this may be frustrating, you will know more about this matter in a very short period of time. In general readings, Judgement will pop up in a future position to represent a life-changing opportunity. If you ignore this opportunity or wait to make a choice, you will lose and live to regret it. Make snappy decisions. Judgment in an outcome position of a love Tarot reading means that something will happen in the future that will impact your relationship forever. That's not to say that anything bad will come of it; it just means that situations will come about that will make or break your partnership. When this happens, you have to make decisions yourself, because the cards can't advise you on a course of action at this time. General - Judgment is a neutral card for most types of Tarot readings, but can sway more toward a yes if the other cards in your spread look promising. If you're performing a reading on a fundamental, life-changing matter, Judgement is a "Yes, but move quickly!" Do they like me? - You are not meant to know whether this person likes you. Do not try to force anything - all will be revealed in its own time. Am I pregnant? - I would not read Judgement as a pregnancy card, but some Tarot readers do. Is this relationship going to last? - This relationship will only last if it's meant to be. If not, there's something better for you out there. Does the future of this look promising? - The future of this matter looks promising if you make decisions quickly. However, be warned - the outcome you achieve may cause some people around you to leave your life. Am I going to reconcile with my ex? - If you're meant to be with your lover, they will return to you. If it's not meant to be, your ex will not come back. However, don't worry, as you will find out soon. Results is a common meaning for Judgement when it appears in your love Tarot reading. You can purchase this Tarot deck here. When it appears in a negative, weakness, or obstacle Tarot spread position, Judgment can be a sign that what you're aiming for is not meant to be. If this is the case, the universe will work against you and the outcome will fall out of your control. When it appears in a positive, strength, or advantage Tarot spread position, Judgment is reassurance that what you're trying to achieve is within your destiny. The universe and the spirits around you are going to keep pushing and clearing paths so that you can glide toward your birthright.
