Half of the brick research presented this game in 2011. as a lateral scroll. Jetpack Joyride Players trying to escapeAfter the theft of a special jet package, which is equipped with balls. The flight part is part of the initial history and the game begins with a player that is already equipped with a jet package. Jetpack Joyride playing as an endless game runner, there are many things that will deal with you in an attempt to go through the laboratory. The Jetpack Jetpack is that the Jetpack engine is activated by pressing the screen. When the accelerator is turned off, gravity comes to bring Barry back to the laboratory floor. There is no control on the X axis, our Joyrider runs faster until it is completed. I miss parts and want to go back? Fishing. The trick is to know how to skip certain obstacles and when you move the mouse in the middle of the screen by touching the acceleration button. There are only two basic obstacles: electric fences that form a red line and a laser that seems to organize the entire screen. In fact, it only covers the part of the field that is displayed by a finer warning beam. They must also avoid missiles that are fired to turn off the Jetpack thief. The alarm is played and the missile trajectory display highlights the screen, making it easier to avoid missiles. All of this can first be slightly prevented. Coins scattered on the map are equally easy to collect. The further it proceeds, the more difficult it is to increase the speed of the game and get fantastic meals. An armored valet that tramples everything that is destroyed only by flying missiles.
