Time and technology are two important factors that can change substances into resources. Both are related to the needs of the people. People themselves are the most important resource. It is their ideas, knowledge, inventions and discoveries that lead to the creation of more resources. Each discovery or invention leads to many others. The discovery of fire led to the practice of cooking and other processes while the invention of the wheel ultimately resulted in development of newer modes of transport. The technology to create hydroelectricity has turned energy in fast flowing water into an important resource.

"So I am a resource too!"

"A very valuable one!"

TYPES OF RESOURCES

Resources are generally classified into natural, human made and human.

Natural Resources

Resources that are drawn from Nature and used without much modification are called natural resources. The air we breathe, the water in our rivers and lakes, the soils, minerals are all natural resources. Many of these resources are free gifts of nature and can be used directly. In some cases tools and technology may be needed to use a natural resource in the best possible way.

Natural resources can be broadly categorised into renewable and non-renewable resources.

Renewable resources are those which get renewed or replenished quickly. Some of these are unlimited and are not affected by human activities, such as solar and wind energy. Yet careless use of certain renewable resources like water, soil and forest can affect their stock. Water seems to be an unlimited renewable resource. But shortage and drying up of natural water sources is a major problem in many parts of the world today.

Non-renewable resources are those which have a limited stock. Once the stocks are exhausted it may take thousands of years to be renewed or replenished. Since this period is much more than human life spans,

The snake _____ his head _____ to strike at the crow. Arching his back and sniffing into the air, he seemed at first to resent my invasion of his privacy. Also See: A House, A Home Class 6 CBSE English Poem Summary, Explanation Lesson Explanation of The Banyan Tree The fight of the cobra and the mongoose is a classic drama often seen in India, and the outcome is largely the same. Halfway up the tree I had built a crude platform where I would spend the afternoons when it was not too hot. Had they been content only to watch, all would have been well with both of them. Again the birds dived at the snake, bumped into each other instead, and returned shrieking to the safety of the cactus. Who were the other two spectators? Pick out words and phrases from the paragraph above this line in the text and write them down. Find five words in the following paragraph, which are generally associated with trees. Answer Hari leaves for work at nine every morning. All the exercises and Question and Answers given at the back of the lesson has been covered. Though the combatants were unaware of my presence in the tree, they were soon made aware of the arrival of two other spectators. The snake resigned and stopped struggling. The dog welcomes Hari with a loud bark every day. Giving a congratulatory high pitched sound, she flew away. Immediately the cobra struck. They had seen these preparations for battle, and had settled on the cactus to watch the outcome. Its spreading branches, which hung to the ground and took root again, forming a number of twisting passages, gave me endless pleasure. Find words in the story, which show things striking violently against each other. The myna flew on and reached its perch, but the crow tried to pull up in mid-air and turn back. Thus, it was a battle between two champs. The word 'round' usually means a kind of shape. mesmerize: here, magically persuade a false move: an unwise action The cobra attacked but missed it.The mongoose again jumped aside.The birds again tried to attack the cobra but were collided with each other.So they came back to the cactus crying. A squirrel became his friend on the tree. Their voices together used to make the place noisy in the garden in the fig season. The cobra knew only too well that the grey mongoose, three feet long, was a superb fighter, clever and aggressive. The words in the box are all words that describe movement. The mongoose dragged and pushed it inside the bushes. The Cobra was well aware that the mongoose had superb fighting skills.But he himself was also an experienced fighter and had deadly poisonous long sharp teeth. They witnessed everything and were settled on the cactus to watch the result.But they were not satisfied with just watching rather they participated in the fight. The birds dived at the snake, but b — — — d into each other instead. Arrange their actions in the proper order. Different birds like bulbul, parrots, myna and crows used to fight with each other over small things. Also, the explanation is followed by a Summary of the lesson. Finally, the mongoose defeated the snake. The Cobra attacked and moved its hood down so quickly that it seemed the mongoose would not be saved. It was as old as the city Dehradun. My first friend was a small grey squirrel. Perch : repose, settle whipped..back: moved..back suddenly pull up: here, stop snout: the nose and mouth of an animal Third time again the birds tried to attack the cobra in the same manner but this time there was a change. Dived gliding sprang darting whipped..back delving I.When he began to trust me, the squirrel began _____ into my pockets for morsels of cake. What did they do? Other than the boy, two other spectators, a myna and a crow were also watching them from the clump of cactus. In the beginning he did not like the authors invasion into his privacy. In the spring, when the banyan tree was full of small red figs, birds of all kinds would flock into its branches: the red-bottomed bulbul, cheerful and greedy; parrots, myna and crows squabbling with one another. Pretended: acted the mongoose made false quick movements very close to the cobra. The cobra writhed and lashed about in a frightening manner, and even coiled itself about the mongoose, but to no avail. Answers See: Class 6 CBSE English Lessons Complete the following sentences. At the same moment that the cobra struck, the crow and the myna hurled themselves at him, only to collide heavily in mid-air. When the cobra tried to bite it, the mongoose _____ aside. The crow and the myna also joined them in the fight and attacked at each other in the air but returned safely to the cactus twice. Crow was bitten and died. One was a myna, the other was a jungle crow. But the little fellow jumped neatly to one side, and darted in as swiftly as the cobra, biting the snake on the back and darting away again out of reach. He works in the local branch of the firm of which his uncle is the owner. The mongoose also showed his readiness to fight by brushing his tail and raising his hair. But when he found that I did not arm myself with catapult or air gun, he became friendly, and when I started bringing him pieces of cake and biscuit he grew quite bold and was soon taking morsels from hand. These roots had formed loops.Various animals like squirrels,snails and butterflies were living living in the turns of those loops.The tree was very old, older than the house and Grandfather. It exhausted the cobra with its shrewd and fast attack moves and finally killed it. Whipped..back 6. catapult : a forked stick with an elastic band fastened to the two prongs, used by children for shooting small stones. During the fig season, the banyan tree was the noisiest place in the garden. However, the cobra was no less, to no avail: with no success grimly : in a very serious manner The author noticed the bird falling twenty feet away. But here, they have been used differently. Treasure Island, Huckleberry Finn and The Story of Dr. Dolittle were some of the books that made up my banyan tree library. I saw the bird flung nearly twenty feet across the garden. Drops of blood were shining on the cobra's back. The cobra struck and missed. The fight between the mongoose and the snake was still continued. Hari leaves for work at nine every morning. The long hair on his spine stood up. They didn't collide with each other. Spy: secret agent Twisting : twiddle, turn The author felt very happy and joyful to see the opened out branches of the tree which used to hang from the tree in bunches to the ground. combatants: participants in a fight spectators: those who watch a show, games, etc. I was feeling drowsy myself, wondering if I should go to the pond and have a swim with Ramu and the buffaloes, when I saw a huge black cobra gliding out of a clump of cactus. 1. At the same time a mongoose emerged from the bushes and went straight for the cobra. And on one particular afternoon I had a grandstand view of that classic of the Indian wilds, a fight between a mongoose and a cobra. The mongoose opened the attack. But when realized that the author was not armed with anything to offend him, he became friendly. The snake hissed, his forked tongue _____ in and out. But the mongoose knew the power of his opponent's glassy, unwinking eyes, and refused to meet them. The injured crow fell on the ground. Answer It was bitten by the snake and died. The root cause of his problem is a stray dog near his office. In spring, the tree was the noisiest place in the garden with a variety of birds chirruping on it. The boy made a rough platform on which he used to sit and read adventurous books during hot summers. They watched the fight and even participated in it. The third time, the myna returned safely but the crow was hit by the cobra. A few drops of blood glistened on the cobra's back. 4. Rather, he was deciding to visit the pond to swim with Ramu and the buffaloes when he noticed a cobra coming out of a clump of cactus and a mongoose from the bushes. The mongoose came out of the bushes and went straight to the Cobra. He is happy, but he has a small problem. Myna flew away in the end. He could move swiftly and strike with the speed of light; and the sacs behind his long sharp fangs were full of deadly poison. He was young squirrel and his kin must have thought him to be a fool for trusting a human. The myna flew back to its shelter but the crow tried to continue the fight in the air and come back. Hissing defiance, his forked tongue darting in and out, the cobra raised three of his six feet off the ground, and spread his broad, spectacled hood. Part I THOUGH the house and grounds belonged to my grandparents, the magnificent old banyan tree was mine — chiefly because Grandfather, at sixty-five, could no longer climb it. The cobra struck the crow, his snout th — — ing against its body. lying on it and reading the books B. It gave a congratulatory shrill and flew away. squabbling : fighting over small things during the fig season: the time when figs appeared In the spring season, the Banyan tree used to be in full bloom. The little fellow hung grimly on, until the snake had ceased to struggle. The mongoose is not immune to the venomous bite, but is faster and quicker in motion than the snake. He was a very young squirrel, and his friends and relatives probably thought him foolish and headstrong for trusting a human. The myna was watching all this. (ii) What did the myna do finally? When I did not feel like reading, I could look down through the leaves at the world below. He was also fast and had sharp fangs of deadly poison. Collide: come into conflict glistened: shone The moment the cobra attacked, the crow and myna threw themselves at him to come into conflict.After making loud short noises of attack they came back to the cactus plant. Suddenly, a huge black cobra and a mongoose came out. defiance: rebellion; resistance dart: move quickly, suddenly Creating a hissing sound in its defiance, moving his tongue quickly in and out, the cobra raised itself from the ground and spread his hood to fight and attack. Crude : primitive, raw propping myself up: leaning against On the tree the author had made a platform of primitive style. Summary of The Banyan Tree Part I A boy who came to live with his grandparents became the owner of a large old banyan tree that housed squirrels, snails and butterflies. Defensive: defending, protective The cobra was trying to spellbind the mongoose with his movements but the mongoose was well aware of the power of its opponents.So he fixed his focus on attacking the cobra at a point just below the cobra's hood and started the attack. Very soon the squirrel started digging into the authors pockets for whatever he could find. The boy was thinking of going to the pond and have a swim with the buffaloes and Ramu. In the afternoon, when it was not very hot, he used to spend his time here. The mongoose attacked fearlessly. The tree was older than the house, older than Grandfather, as old as DehraDun itself. The crow and the myna c — ll — — in mid-air. The birds _____ at the snake. gliding: moving smoothly clump: group (of bushes or trees) emerged: came out clearing: an open space in a forest where there are no trees sacs: a part (of an animal or plant) shaped like a bag fangs: long sharp teeth (of a snake or dog) grandstand view: a clear view from the best position (a grandstand is a large covered space with rows of seats for people to watch sports) Both the Cobra and the mongoose came before each other under the Banyan tree. In the spring, the banyan tree _____, and _____ would come there. (Did they watch, or did they join in the fight? Underline the words. 2. In a clearing beneath the banyan tree, in bright sunshine, they came face to face. I saw a cobra _____ out of a clump of cactus. Moving forward quickly until he was just within the cobra's reach, the mongoose made a pretended move to one side. In the second that it took the bird to do this the cobra whipped his head back and struck with great force, his snout thudding against the crow's body. The myna dropped cautiously to the ground, hopped about, peered into the bushes from a safe distance, and then, with a shrill cry of congratulation, flew away. Mongoose Cobra (a) _____ (a) (b) (c) (c) Answers: Mongoose Cobra Champion Fighter Broad hood Clever and aggressive Poisonous teeth Swift and flexible Swift in attack (ii) What did the cobra and the mongoose do, to show their readiness for the fight? (i) ceased to struggle grabbed the snake by the snout (ii) tried to mesmerise dragged the snake into the mongoose the bushes (iii) coiled itself around darted away and bit the the mongoose cobra on the back (iv) struck the crow pretended to attack the cobra on one side (v) struck again and refused to look into the missed snake's eyes (vi) struck on the side sprang aside, jumped in that the mongoose and bit pretended to attack Answers: Cobra Mongoose tried to mesmerise the mongoose refused to snake's eyes Coiled itself around the mongoose Pretended to attack the cobra on one side Struck the crow Sprang aside, jumped in and bit Struck again and missed Darted away, bit and grabbed the snake by the snout ceased to struggle dragged the snake into the bushes What happened to the crow in the end? It used to be full of small red figs (a fruit). 6. Do you need help with your Homework? 'It was to be a battle of champions.' (i) What qualities did the two champions have? Read the descriptions below of what the snake did and what the mongoose did. Instead he fixed his gaze at a point just below the cobra's hood, and opened the attack. Shrill : high pitched The myna fell down to the ground and hopping about she reached the bushes. Soon the author started bringing him tidbits of food like cakes and biscuits. They became so friendly that the squirrel started taking tit bits of food from his hand. Among them were squirrels and snails and butterflies. The myna was on the cactus plant and she didn't interfere in the fight after this.The cobra was weakened and defeated. The banyan tree served the boy as a _____ 6. B. He had put a cushion there which he had picked from the drawing room and was able to read at this place, while leaning against the tree. The mongoose brushed his tail. The cobra was aware of the superb fighting skills of the mongoose. I could read there propping myself up against the tree with a cushion from the living room. But this small creature was quick to jump and move on one side.It also bit the snake on its back and again moved away out of its reach. The third round followed the same course as the first but with one dramatic difference. reading room 6. When the boy started to bring him pieces of cake and biscuit, the squirrel _____ 4. Answer It gave a shrill cry and flew away. Shrieking insults at each other they returned to the cactus plant. He had set up a small tree library and the books that he read there were: Treasure Island, Huckleberry Finn and the story of Dr. Dolittle. Magnificent: Marvellous, wonderful The author was at his grandparents' house and he claimed that the banyan tree belonged to him though the house owner were his grandparents. He said so because his grandfather was 65 years old and was unable to climb the tree. Again the mongoose sprang aside, jumped in and bit: was full of small red figs, all kinds of birds 5. Answer the following questions. Use them to fill in the blanks in the sentences below. But the cobra, too, was a skilful and experienced fighter. Invasion : invading a country or region with an armed force spy: watch secretly resent: dislike; feel angry about morsels: small bits of food delving: going deep into First of all, the author became friends with a small squirrel.He arched his back and smelt into the air. This constant movement tires and discourages the snake, and the mongoose is finally able to leap in close and bury its teeth in the snake's neck, usually severing the joints of its vertebrae. It kept shaking its body for sometime but then it became still and died. The myna remained on the cactus plant, and when the snake and the mongoose returned to the fight, very wisely decided not to interfere again! The cobra was weakening, and the mongoose, walking fearlessly up to it, raised himself on his short legs and with a lightning snap had the big snake by the snout. The oldman was unable to climb the tree due to his age and it was a place used by the boy alone. It fluttered about for a while, then lay still. The crow and the myna, still determined to take part in the proceedings, dived at the cobra; but this time they missed each other as well as their mark. It noticed that the boy did not have any air gun in his hand. 3. Class 6 English (Honeysuckle Book) Chapter 10 - The Banyan Tree By Ruskin Bond [slightly abridged] Introduction to The Banyan Tree The author narrates an incident of a fight between a mongoose and a cobra that he witnessed as a young boy while sitting under a banyan tree at his grandparents' house. The cobra assumes a posture of defence and attempts to reach the animal by a sweeping strike, but the quick-moving mongoose jumps out of reach and comes at the snake from another direction, before the snake can get into striking position again. The Banyan Tree - Part II Because of the hot summer everyone was indoors. Answer: The other two spectators were the Myna and a wild crow. Are you preparing for Exams?Study without Internet.
